FINDS FATHER AFTER A LIFE-TIME SEARCH

It reads not unlike romance, does the story of Henry Kroth. After twenty years patient, persistent search for a loving father of whom he had the dimmest childhood recollection, now at the age of twenty-five Henry's efforts have met with sudden success. To fully appreciate the joy with which the young man received intelligence of his father, perhaps one must first suffer such a life-time deprivation, all the time with the instinctive knowledge that the father still lived and loved.

Henry Kroth was born near Waco, Texas. When he was two years of age his mother died and his father, William H. Kroth, placed the child in the care of the mother's sister until he should grow large enough to join his father. Thus he was reared, Mr. Kroth supporting in comfort both the child and aunt, until five years old. At this time Mr. Kroth, who was a railroad conductor, wrote that he was coming after his boy. The aunt had become very much attached to the little fellow and loath to give him up, hurriedly removed to the vicinity of Lehigh, I. T., carefully covering her tracks.

Not long afterward this aunt died leaving the boy to be reared by others of her kin and by strangers. At the age of twelve he was thrown upon his own resources. During most of the last twelve years he has struggled and rustled for himself in the neighborhood of Ada, I. T. He now occupies the position of freight clerk for the Frisco at this station, and is an industrious young man of excellent character.

During all these years he has made diligent inquiry for his father, without so much as hearing of a person bearing the name Kroth. However, he thought he heard when a child that his father's people lived in Kansas. Acting upon this impression, three weeks ago he wrote letters of inquiry to every county recorder in that state. A response from one of these brought the information that a wealthy old farmer of the name lived near Havensville, Kansas. Young Kroth communicated at once with the latter and received yesterday a telegram from him announcing that he is the grandfather, of whom the boy is a namesake, and that the father resides at Antimony, Howard County, Ark. Of course the son sent a telegram to Arkansas immediately and expects to be with his father so soon as practicable.

REVOLT AT MOSCOW HAS BEEN CRUSHED

St. Petersburg, Dec. 27.—Emperor Nicholas and Count Witte received last night a report from Gen. Doubassoff, Governor General of Moscow, saying that the revolt there had failed; that the military had the situation in hand and that whatever defection may have existed among the troops had been overcome by attacks on them with revolvers and bombs, to which they had been subjected from the windows and roofs of houses and which had so enraged them they could hardly be restrained.

Firing continued intermittently throughout the day. At 5 o'clock automatic guns were used in Strastner Square, but the insurgents were becoming exhausted after their four days' efforts, and the fighting was rapidly degenerating into guerrilla warfare. The insurgents were defending themselves with revolvers and bombs as they were being hunted from house to house.

A terrible holocaust occurred at the Syrin works, where 6,000 workmen were suddenly surrounded by cavalry and artillery. The latter fired at the building, which was soon in flames. Hundreds perished in the conflagration.

Frenzied With Fire Water

A revolting shooting occurred Christmas night at an Indian dance two miles east of Sasakwa. An Indian named Pompey Davis apparently became crazed with liquor and fired three shots at his wife, one of the shots taking effect in the arm of his 18 months old baby. He fled at once and at last reports was still unapprehended.

A DOUBLE LYNCHING BROUGHT TO LIGHT

Columbia, S. C., Dec. 27.—News of a double lynching at Barnwell Friday has been received here. Sheriff Creech has wired Governor Heyward that the affair was brutal murder; that helpless prisoners were butchered in open daylight and that officers were guilty of dereliction of duty.

H. S. Craddock, a well known white merchant, was killed by Frank and John Deloache, negroes, who were arrested by the Constable and locked up. The men were taken out and shot to death with guns and pistols Friday.

The news of the lynching was suppressed.

Sheriff Creech is preparing to make arrests and Governor Heyward announces he will sustain them.

The "Convict's Daughter"

On of the most entertaining and finely mounted plays of the season will be seen at the Ada opera house January 2. It is a superb offering and credit is due to Managers Chitwood & Constant for securing this excellent production. "The Convict's Daughter" is possessed of a well defined plot, a story interestingly and effectively told. The cast is all that could be desired, and all are well adapted to their respective parts. The scenic effects are good, and the prison scene in Act IV particularly thrilling. They must be seen to be fully appreciated, and those who fail to see them will certainly do themselves an injustice.

POSTOFFICE POLITICS BROUGHT HIM TO GRIEF

Ardmore, I. T., Dec. 27.—H. S. Conner of Purcell was placed in the federal jail here last afternoon to serve a thirty days' sentence for contempt of court. He was recently fined $500 and given such jail sentence by Judge Dickerson at Purcell. Trouble grew out of Conner's candidacy for appointment as postmaster at Purcell. Until recently he was assistant postmaster there and recently sued his opponent for appointment, C. D. Strassberger, for slander in the sum of ten thousand dollars. Conviction is the alleged result of Conners tampering with jury lists.

Died.

At the home of his daughter, Mrs. Blackwood, in North Ada at 3 a. m. Wednesday Mr. Cumberland Polk, Aged 77 years. The remains will be interred in Rosedale cemetery Thursday at 10:30. The cause of Mr. Polk's death is peculiar. Several days ago he bit his tongue. Later blood poison set up in the trivial wound, resulting fatally. He was an old settler in this section. His friends grieve with the family over the passing of the pioneer.

BIG INCENDIARY FIRE IN BUSINESS BLOCK

Sulphur, I. T., Dec. 27.—Fire early yesterday morning destroyed four brick and stone buildings in the west part of the city. The fire started in the dry goods establishment of J. B. Chambers and continued down the line, destroying entirely the furniture stock of H. F. Weems, the dry goods stock belonging to Williams & Henly and the drug stock belonging to Frame & Line. Insurance was carried on all the stocks and buildings. Total losses about $50,000. The fire is thought to be of incendiary origin and suspicions center upon a certain party who lives here.

An Indian Killed.

Tishomingo, I. T., Dec. 27.—Clayburn McKinney, a full-blood Indian, was shot and instantly killed at 5 o'clock last evening just outside the city limits. A shotgun was used, blowing McKinney's brains out.

Guy Keel, an Indian, was arrested and placed in jail. Keel's 8-year-old son was a witness to the shooting.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Westcott of Dallas, who have been visiting Mr. Westcott's parents, left last night for St. Louis.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT SITUATION.

The enigmatical political situation existing in the Southern District is thus summarized in the Ardmoreite:

Political complications seem to increase as the days go by. * * * Those intimate with the situation state that there never were fights that were so uncertain as the ones that are now pending. Ordinarily, with the political machinery behind a candidate, the situation was accepted as an almost certain fact that the organization man would be appointed. But the recent trend of events have convinced the machinery men that all is not well and that they must fight to win.

The trouble of the party began when Soper packed his grip and left Washington, leaving the candidates to struggle for themselves. This was a nice situation, it is said, for the party to confront. Many messages have been sent to Soper asking the true status of things. Nothing has been heard from him in answer to the inquiries.

Henry M. Carr wires today from Washington to correct the report that he is supporting Humphrey. He adds in his message he is a winner. This means that Carr is still in the fight and his candidacy will serve to complicate matters and lessen the chances of Humphrey who is fighting hard to land.

Robnett is in Washington and will remain until he gets the tip in some form that he is to be appointed or not. Wortham will reach the capital today and he will begin his fight. Colbert is still in the territory sawing wood. He does not seem to be disturbed in the least by the candidacy of others. It may be possible that he has received a tip from the white house. Some are inclined to think that he has.

It may be said to the credit of the party in the territory that it has made a great fight for the enforcement of home rule.

BURNING OF THE EARTH.

Said That Collision with Nearest Fixed Star May Be Source of Fire.

If the earth is to be destroyed by fire as predicted in the Second Epistle of St. Peter, what is to cause the fire? Dr. J. E. Gore, the British astronomer, finds that no outburst of the sun from internal activity is likely to be sufficient, and it is to heat from collision that we must look. To collide with the nearest fixed star the sun must travel at its present rate for 80,000 years. The sun is speeding 11 miles per second toward Vega (Alpha Lyrae), and it is possible that one of the dark bodies of space may approach from that direction, or even now be on the way. Dr. Gore calculates that such a body having the sun's mass and earth's density would shine by the sun's light as a ninth magnitude star, on reaching a distance of 15,000,000,000 miles. Moving at the sun's velocity, with gradual acceleration, it would approach to 6,000,000,000 miles in ten years, when it would flash into naked eye view as a "new star" of fifth magnitude. In four years more it would be as near as Uranus, in another year as near as Jupiter, and far outstripping both Jupiter and Venus. Then the earth's distance would be reached in 51 days, and the sun in eight days more the speed having increased to 100,000 miles per second. The collision would be a colossal St. Peter. Both sun and colliding body would be vaporized within an hour, and the sun's pendent heat would destroy most of the planets. If a direct course were kept, the strange body would not strike any planet. But the body might be smaller, and if of the earth's size, would come nearer than Uranus before detection, giving only a few months' warning of disaster.

Coughing Spell Caused Death

Harry Duckwell, aged 25 years, choked to death early yesterday morning at his home, in the presence of his wife and child. He contracted a slight cold a few days ago and paid but little attention to it. Yesterday morning he was seized with a fit of coughing which continued for some time. His wife sent for a physician but before he could arrive, another coughing spell came on and Duckwell died from suffocation.—St. Louis Globe Democrat, Dec. 1st 1901. Ballard's Horehound Syrup would have saved him. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Clark Drug Co.

Pirating Foley's Honey and Tar

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered as no other preparation will give the same satisfaction. It is mildly laxative. It contains no opiates and is safest for children and delicate persons. Clark Drug Co. and Mason Drug Co.

Remarkable Cure.

"I was much afflicted with sciatica." Writes Ed C. Nud, Iowa. "Sedgwick Co., Kan., going about on crutches and suffering a deal of pain. I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, which relieved me. I used three 50c bottles. It is the greatest liniment I ever used; have recommended it to a number of persons; all express themselves as being benefited by it. I now walk without crutches, able to perform a great deal of light labor on the farm." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Clark Drug Co.

Steals Fire From the Mind.

Malaria steals fire from the mind and vigor from the limb unless you take Dr. Mendenhall's Chill and Fever Cure to give yourself new vim. Better than quinine and does not affect the head. Pleasant to take. If you do not like it better than any other Chill Tonic Clark's Drug Co. will pay your money back.

Torture of a Preacher

The story of the torture of Rev. O. D. Moore, pastor of the Baptist church of Harpersville, N. Y., will interest you. He says: "I suffered agonies because of a persistent cough, resulting from the grip. I had to sleep sitting up in bed. I tried many remedies without relief until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, which entirely cured my cough and saved me from consumption." A grand cure for diseased conditions of throat and lungs. At Clark Drug Co. and Dr. F. Z. Holley's Drug Store; price 50c and $1.00, guaranteed Trial bottle free.

Suicide at Sherman

Sherman, Tex., Dec. 22.—In a most deliberate manner Dennis B. Taft, aged 70 years, a stranger, ended his life by casting himself under the wheels of the north-bound Fort Worth and Rio Grande (Frisco) express train No. 10 at 2:30 o'clock last afternoon.

A Fearful Fate

It is a fearful fate to have to endure the terrible torture of Piles. "I can truthfully say," writes Harry Colson of Masonville, Ia., "that for Blind, Bleeding, Itching and Protruding Piles Bucklin's Arnica Salve is the best cure made." Also best for cuts, burns and injuries. 25c at Clark Drug Co. and Dr. F. Z. Holley's Drug Store.

Christmas and New Years Holiday

Excursion rates via the Frisco. Rate one and one third fare for the round trip, but nothing less than 50 cents.

Tickets on sale December 22nd 23rd, 24th, 25th, 30th and 31st, and January 1st. Limit for return January 4th, 1906. For information as to what points we can sell, rates, etc., call on I. McNair, Agent, Ada, I. T.

No Case of Pneumonia on Record

We do not know of a single instance where a cough or cold resulted in pneumonia or consumption when Foley's Honey and Tar had been taken. It cures coughs and colds perfectly, so do not take chances with some unknown preparation which may contain opiates, which cause constipation, a condition that retards recovery from a cold. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered. Clark Drug Co. and Mason Drug Co.

Exceptional Holiday Rates Via Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway

On December 21, 22 and 23 Holiday tickets will be sold at greatly reduced rates to certain points in Colorado, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Wisconsin and Wyoming. Tickets good 30 days from date of sale.

On December 22, 23, 24, 25, 30 and 31, 1905, and January 1, 1906, holiday tickets will be sold between local stations and to points on connecting lines, with final return limit of January 4, 1906.

They departed smacking their lips over the fun and refreshments.

Bullet Fired Into Harris Home.

Some miscreant Monday night fired a shot that might have proved serious. At about nine o'clock a pistol report was heard and the occupants at the J. F. M. Harris home discovered that a ball had bored a hole through the screen and window pane on the west side of the house and lodged in a feather bed opposite. The ball narrowly missed several parties which is extremely fortunate. Pistol firing is a dangerous practice and should be punished.

VASE OF THIRD CENTURY.

Relic of Early Italian Art That Is Valued at a Very High Figure.

Another family treasure of great value which has since passed into the keeping of the nation is the Portland vase, now exhibited in the British museum. This vase came from Italy, and what its age is no man knows, though it has been proved that in A. D. 235, it was deposited in a sepulcher under the Monte del Grano, three miles from Rome, and it is believed to have contained the ashes of the Emperor Severus. But, whether or no, Pope Urban VIII had it dug up; and for more than two centuries it reposed in the Barberini palace at Rome. In 1786 the duke of Portland purchased it from Sir William Hamilton for 1,029 guineas, and deposited it in the British museum 15 years later. The vase is only ten inches high. In 1845 a man named Lloyd, employed at the museum, picked up a stone and hurled it in a fit of frenzy at the case which contained the precious relic. The vase was smashed into hundreds of pieces, but with great ingenuity they were all put together again and as it now stands is said to be worth at the very least $75,000.

Ha pennies and Farthings in Australia. Half pennies are very scarce in Australia, so much so that an attempt once made in Melbourne to run a half-penny evening paper soon failed because people had not the coin where-with to purchase it. And if halfpence are rare, farthings are curiosities. A shrewd Melbourne shop-keeper has imported some thousands of bright new King Edward farthings, and he is reported to be doing a roaring trade. They are piled up in heaps in his windows and attract gaping crowds. Every article he sells is so much and three farthings.—London Chronicle.

WILD DAYS IN ODESSA.

Drunk Policemen and Soldiers Running Amuck Among the People.

Here is a correspondent's record of the minor boogian outrages of one day in the city of Odessa recently: "Shortly before sundown a drunken member of a small military picket staggered across to the edge of the broad pavement, raised his rifle and fired wildly at a passing dorky carrying two women and a young girl. The bullet missed its mark. An officer, attracted by the shot, rushed over, and the drunken soldier ran as best he could, after dropping his rifle, but was brought down by a shot in the leg from the officer. On the opposite side of Cathedral place, 300 paces away, about the same time, an intoxicated policeman reeled out of a vodka shop and commenced blazing about with his revolver, one shot wounding a young woman in the hand. He was shot dead by a member of the nearest picket.

"Earlier in the day two small merchants returning through a busy thoroughfare from the custom house were stopped by boogians and robbed of everything. Thirty yards away stood a picket of two soldiers and a policeman. The indignant victims demanded to know why the picket did not come to their assistance. One of the soldiers replied it was none of their business; they were there to control the traffic only.

"Two other cases of robbery with violence occurred in the afternoon close to my residence, in the outer districts of the city there were 17 similar assaults and robberies, and between midnight and midnight about 20. In three of the latter cases the military pickets were the bandits. A little girl of nine years, chased by the boogians, was shot dead on her own doorstep."

ALASKA NATIVE BEAR HUNT

Which Famous Hunter Displayed Agility That Was Marvellous.

"Bear hunting as pursued by the Alaska native is an interesting game," remarked J. P. Gardiner, a Nome miner, reports the San Francisco Chronicle.

"I witnessed a bear hunt on Kodiak island a few months ago. A big brown bear, one of the species familiarly known on Kodiak island and the other Aleutian islands, was pestering the settlement, and a native who bore a wide reputation for prowess among his people decided to go after the animal. Before starting on the expedition, however, he went to his mother and obtained her permission. His mother was the oldest woman of the tribe, and without her consent he wouldn't have stirred an inch. She gave her consent, so the native hunter, armed only with a knife, started out. Three more of us, with rifles, accompanied him. We agreed among us to allow the native to have the first chance at the bear and to shoot only if he failed to kill the beast.

"We came upon the bear in a ravine. The native crouched on the ground as the bear came up. We became quite excited. It was to be a hand-to-hand battle, and we feared the native would get the worst of it. As the bear approached the native it reared on its hind legs. We had our guns ready for instant action. But the guns were not needed. Quick as a flash the native sprang up and had his knife plunged into the animal's heart and was away several steps before the bear knew what had happened. It was a death blow and we packed the belt back to Karluk in triumph."

GREAT SLAUGHTER OF GAME

Thousands Upon Thousands of Wild Animals Destroyed in South Africa.

During the four months of the shooting season of 1904 something like 12,000 head of game has been sold on the Kimberley market. Those figures were rather staggering, but it is surprising, perhaps, to hear that they had more than doubled during the present year.

The secretary of the Game Protection association had obtained a return from the marketmaster which showed that 29,119 head of game were sold on the Kimberley market during the period April 1 to August 15 last. If of that 29,119 say 2,000 head were small birds which did not come within the usual interpretation of the word "game," that left something like 27,000 head of buck and birds which were included in the usual interpretation of the word "game." That was a lamentable return, and clearly emphasized the necessity for taking some action to stop the indiscriminate slaughter of game.

The totals under the various heads of the return showed that the game included 3,402 springbuck, 244 duiker, 1,816 stembuck, 6,863 hares—the past season had been a remarkable one for hares, as all knew—3,897 korhaan, 3,247 reiding, 704 guinea fowl, 137 panuw, 228 wild duck, 25 wild geese and 8,555 partridges and small birds.

Many Self-Denials for Flute Player.
Kissing, the use of tobacco and indulgence in intoxicants are equally distasteful to the ambitions of the flutist, according to John J. Cafarelli, a flutist of over 20 years standing. Muscles of a flutist's mouth are tender to a degree, or they are sensitive, that is the word, said Mr. Cafarelli. "They are trained to the action necessary to the performance with the flute, but at the same time they are more sensitive than the ordinary muscles. Tobacco and intoxicants absolutely unfit the player for his work, as they make the muscles of the mouth so flabby and limp that they cannot perform their necessary and difficult work."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

LONG TRIP WITH OX TEAM.

Over 1500 Miles Made by Elderly Couple and Family in Eight Months.

An old-time prairie schooner, drawn by two ox teams, and the wagon filled with the entire earthly possessions of William Hoyt has covered the distance of 1,200 miles between Decatur, Ala., and Guthrie since April 6 last, with stops of several weeks duration at Memphis, Little Rock and Fort Smith, where Hoyt worked to get enough money on which to continue the journey to Beaver county, in this territory, where he will homestead a claim and begin life anew, says a Guthrie (Okla.) correspondence of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Hoyt is now 60 years old, and is accompanied by his wife, aged 52, a son, Louis, aged 14, and two daughters, Clementine, aged 13, and Katherine, aged 10. When the outfit reaches Beaver county it will have covered 1,500 miles.

Hoyt himself is white haired, but spry. All his life he has been an iron molder and for 40 years he worked in shops at Decatur. Finally he became sick and his physicians recommended a complete change of climate. Hoyt sold what property he had and purchased the oxen and six head of cows and started. Hoyt and his son attend to the oxen while the mother and oldest girl follow on foot with the cows. The cows are tied together, to prevent a stampede, and all are led by Mrs. Hoyt. The girl leads a three-months-old calf. All parties, excepting the youngest daughter, have walked practically the entire distance.

Hoyt has regained his health and expects to use the oxen next spring to break sod and tend at least 50 acres of corn and kafir corn.

GIANT WORK OF GLACIER.

Electric Power Being Generated by Melted Ice of the Northwestern Mountains.

From the glacial streams of Tacoma is already generated a very large quantity of electric power, which is being utilized not only for power, but for heating and lighting as well. To give an idea of the diversity of uses for the current, says the Technical World Magazine, it may be stated that it operates the electric railway systems in the cities of Seattle and Tacoma aggregating 168 miles of trolley line, in addition to cable railways situated in the hilly portions of these cities. Besides this service, however, current is furnished for one of the most notable interurban electric railways in the United States, that extending between Seattle and Tacoma, where power is secured from the third rail in connection with the multiple-unit system. This line is employed not only for passenger service, but for transporting freight and express material, and ranks among the most completely equipped electric systems in the world. The horse power required for a number of the largest industries in the city of Tacoma, including the shops of the Northern Pacific railway and the water-works pumping plant, is also obtained from this source, while illumination, for streets and buildings, in both Seattle and Tacoma, depends upon it to a considerable extent. The demand for power is increasing so rapidly that within a few years Mount Tacoma will be supplying fully 50,000 horse-power to the cities mentioned.

PEARLS FOR THE MARKET.

Fresh Water Gems Cultivated for Sale in the Mississippi Basin.

The systematic culture of freshwater pearls may easily become an important industry in the United States as the mollusk from which they are taken are very abundant in our lakes and rivers, says the Technical World Magazine. The Mississippi basin, especially, teems with them, presenting many forms which differ from those of the Atlantic watershed and other parts of the world.

The methods of culture are exceedingly simple as it is necessary only to open slightly the shell and insert a very small transparent glass bead, putting it between the mantle and the shell. Great care must be taken to avoid injury to the little animal; and in opening the shell a thin, flat iron tool with a wooden handle and a bent point should be used; a knife might answer for this purpose. When the point has been inserted it is turned around to an angle of about 90 degrees, the shell being thus partially opened without injury to the life within. After treatment, it must be returned to the water for a year or two, while the process of incrustation goes on.

Taking No Chances.
"Perhaps," suggested the waiter, "you would like a Welsh rabbit."
"No," said the austere customer, "I am a vegetarian."

Reading Her Face.
Mabel (not in her first youth)—First of all he held my hands and told my fortune; and then, Evie, he gazed into my face ever so long, and said he could read my thoughts. Wasn't that clever of him, dear?

A WOMAN'S FRIENDSHIP.

Instances of Intense Personal Attachments Among Historic Characters.

When Mme. de Staël was dying she wrote Mme. Recamier, closing her letter as follows: "All that is left of me embraces you."

Mme. Recamier devoted the remainder of her life in cherishing the memory of Mme. de Staël, says the Pilgrim. The only person who ever came near filling Mme. de Staël's place in her heart was Elizabeth Foster, the beautiful duchess of Devonshire—the original of Sir Joshua Reynolds' famous portrait.

Margaret Fuller formed many impassioned connections with women during her life. They were attracted by her powers of intellect and harmony.

There are three noted instances of platonic attachments—Petrarch and Laura, and Dante and Beatrice, and Joanna Baillie and Sir Walter Scott.

Mme. Roland and her husband were alike and inseparable. John Stuart Mill and his wife were companions, as were also Elizabeth and Robert Browning. These relations can be easily explained. The fever of time produces lassitude, dispels illusions, and undermines passions. Then the love of these strong souls turns into that crowning lasting union—friendship.

There was a great friendship between Goethe and his sister Cornelia. She was a year younger than he, and, while not at all good looking, had superior endowments of mind and character. The attachment between Byron and his sister, Mrs. Leigh, was most touching. She remained unalterably attached to him during the dreadful storm of unpopularity which drove him out of England. Four of his best poems were composed for and addressed to her. Byron's last words were of his sister and his daughter.

CHRISTMAS TREE GAMBLE.

Dealers in the Holiday Bushes Never Know How They Are Coming Out.

"The Christmas tree business is a gamble," says one of the few New York shippers who never comes out on the losing side, says Country Life in America, because he knows how to cut his trees and how to sell them, because he knows there is always a sale for the best. "No two years alike. No one knows how many shippers will be in the market. No one knows how many trees the others will bring nor how many he himself will bring, for that matter, with weather and railroads to reckon with at the last minute. The trees may cost $65, they may cost $150, a carload, which means from two to five cents apiece delivered on the farm. The average market price is 60 cents a bundle of five trees, and men who get this make good money. No two handle the business alike. One shipper will bring ten or 20 carloads of trees cut as they run, take them or leave them. Another will bring five carloads of carefully selected trees, sell them at 60 cents a bundle to two, three or five dollars apiece for large singles, and as high as $25 for the giant trees that gladden the hearts of a hundred bed-ridden babies in a hospital or a half-thousand youngsters who have gone very faithfully to Sunday school for enough weeks before Christmas to insure them a place on the church tree; and this man will make more money with less risk than the man with 20 cars of poorer stock."

WOOD IN BOWLING BALLS.

Lignumvitae Not Now the Predominating Variety Used in Their Manufacture.

With the great increase in the number of women bowlers in recent years came a demand for bowling balls lighter than those of lignumvitae. One of the woods used for this purpose is called sappanoe, and comes from Cuba. Rosewood is now also occasionally used and so is mahogany.

Formerly all bowling balls were made without finger holes. Now it is common to make them with finger holes. Some bowlers prefer only two finger holes, one for the thumb and another for one finger. Other balls are made with an opening large enough to accommodate all the fingers, such being called slot balls.

Bowling balls are sometimes covered with rubber, as are also, where such balls are used, the pins. This arrangement makes the game less noisy. There is now made a solid hard rubber bowling ball that is asserted to possess extraordinary merits. It is said it will outwear many wooden balls and remains always true in shape.

A regulation lignumvitae ball costs about four dollars, a solid hard rubber bowling ball of regulation size and weight costs $20.

Trust vs. Rings.
"What," queried the fair maid, "is the difference between a trust and a ring?"
"I'm afraid I can't explain the difference in so many words," replied the young man in the case, "but if you'll put your trust in me, I'll blow myself for the ring to-morrow."

And she put her trust in him.—Chicago Daily News.

Acting Under Orders.
"I should like to go to your party, above all things," Mrs. Lapsling was saying, "but the doctor says I must remain exclusive for a week more. I am troubled with a slight prevarication of the left lung."—Chicago Tribune.
